The Patrick & Henry Community College Foundation is a not-for profit organization that is fiscally and organizationally separate from the college. Its goal is to enhance community awareness of Patrick & Henry Community College; to secure contributions, bequests and donations; and to account for, manage and help appreciate monies or property submitted to the foundation.

Our goal is to help students gain access to affordable, quality education.
Help us make that dream a reality by contributing to the P&HCC Foundation.

Foundations Give. Grow. Make a Difference.

Greetings

Dr. Greg Hodges
P&HCC President

The 2023/2024 academic year was once again full of honors, awards, and accomplishments for Patrick & Henry Community College.

P&HCC was deeply honored to be recognized as the Entrepreneurial College of the Year by the National Association of Community College Entrepreneurship (NACCE). Awarded because of our partnership with the StartUp and Grow programs, which are delivered in conjunction with the Martinsville & Henry County Chamber of Commerce, these two training tracks have become an essential part of our region's entrepreneurial ecosystem. Similarly, P&HCC was thrilled to be named a Leader College of Distinction by Achieving the Dream. As one of only six colleges in the country recognized last year, this award highlights our college's commitment to the economic mobility of our students and their families.

We were also thrilled to be recognized as one of the best colleges in the nation to work for, according to the Great Colleges to Work For® program. Patrick & Henry Community College won honors in six categories this year: Job Satisfaction & Support, Professional Development, Compensation & Benefits, Mission & Pride, Faculty Experience, and Confidence in Senior Leadership. Patrick & Henry Community College was also named to the Great Colleges Honor Roll, a status granted to only 42 colleges who are highlighted most across the recognition categories each year.

As wonderful as it is for the college to be recognized nationally, we continue to be extremely proud of the impact we are having locally. To that end, we were thrilled to announce that our academic Pell-eligible enrollment grew by 1% over the previous year while our short-term workforce enrollment grew by 53%. For the academic year, 462 unduplicated graduates earned 633 academic credentials (degrees, certificates, and career studies certificates) while 339 additional students earned Fast Forward workforce certifications. Altogether, 801 students earned 972 credentials/certifications for 2023/2024.

We remain so very grateful for the continued support of our donors. Simply put, we could not fulfill our mission of economic mobility without these resources. Every penny enables us to provide students what they need in order for them and their families to experience financial stability. The economic renaissance is very real in our community, and P&HCC is delighted to be our community's education and training provider helping to ensure a very bright future for our service region.

As always, it is the honor of my lifetime to serve as the president of Patrick & Henry Community College.

J. Gregory Hodges

As we look back on another successful year at Patrick & Henry Community College, we are reminded of the wisdom in John Bunyan's words: "You have not lived today until you have done something for someone who can never repay you." This powerful sentiment is at the core of our mission and everything we do. The Patrick & Henry Community College Foundation strives to cultivate an atmosphere of generosity and support for our students, who embody the promise of a brighter future for both themselves and our community.

In this annual report, we celebrate the incredible impact we have made together—thanks to the unwavering commitment of our donors, faculty, staff, and community partners. Your contributions have provided essential scholarships, resources, and opportunities that empower our students to pursue their dreams, even in the face of challenges. It's inspiring to see how every gift, no matter its size, can create ripples of change that transform lives in ways we may never fully grasp.

Join us as we reflect on the achievements of the past year and honor those who have chosen to invest in the potential of others. Your support has truly made a difference and, together, we are building a legacy of compassion, hope, and empowerment. Thank you for being an integral part of this journey—we couldn't do it without you!

101 Inducted into P&HCC's PTK Psi Phi Chapter

Patrick & Henry Community College celebrated the induction of 101 Phi Theta Kappa (PTK) members to the college's Psi Phi Chapter on Wednesday, April 24 at its fifty-second annual event.

Following opening remarks by P&HCC President Dr. Greg Hodges, advisors Bronté Miller and LaDonna Varner touted the accomplishments of the honorees and encouraged them to explore the scholarship opportunities PTK will afford them when they transfer to four-year universities. Vice President Candice Lockard and member Alan Rodriguez Rosas were also recognized for their PTK All-Virginia Academic Team honor.

PTK is an international college honor society for students in two-year colleges. The organization focuses on recognizing and encouraging the academic achievement of college students while providing opportunities for individual growth and development through participation in honors, leadership, service, and fellowship programming. For more than 100 years, Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society has helped millions of high-achieving college students reach their full potential. The organization makes it easy to research and apply for valuable scholarships that help reduce the cost of college.

P&HCC'S PTK officers were Maeve McCulloch, president; Candice Lockard, vice president; and Samantha Harris, recording & media officer.

The P&HCC Foundation generously covers the membership dues for the P&HCC PTK Psi Phi Chapter, ensuring that all eligible students can participate without financial barriers.

DONOR SPOTLIGHT

P&HCC to Expand Healthcare Training with TRRC Grant

Patrick & Henry Community College was awarded $149,140 from the Tobacco Region Revitalization Commission to expand healthcare training capacity in Nurse Aide, Clinical Medical Assistant, Medication Aide, and Phlebotomy Technician programs. These programs lead to short-term credentials that quickly allow students to enter high-demand health careers in the region.

“We are grateful for the continued support of the Tobacco Region Revitalization Commission. Their partnership and support of P&HCC ensures our students have access to programs and training that lead to high demand careers in our area,” said P&HCC Foundation executive director Tiffani Underwood.

The expansion of programming both on P&HCC’s main campus and in partnership with programming at The Franklin Center in Rocky Mount will increase credentials and help place medical professionals in jobs in the area.

“Career opportunities in the healthcare industry are abundant and pay well, providing economic mobility for our graduates and their families. Patrick & Henry Community College has a strong history of preparing students for these careers, and we are excited to partner with Franklin County and the Tobacco Region Revitalization Commission to offer healthcare certification programs at The Franklin Center. Once a faculty member is hired, P&HCC plans to offer healthcare programming that meets both the interests of students and needs of employers,” said P&HCC vice president for workforce, economic and community development Rhonda Hodges.

P&HCC Foundation will provide a dollar for dollar match to supplement TRRC funding.

P&HCC’s Patriot Pantry Receives Community Support

P&HCC has hosted Patriot Pantry, a food and hygiene shop for students, since 2016. The Pantry exists thanks to the donations of P&HCC staff and community members. Bassett Kiwanis Club was one such recent donor, gifting the Pantry funds to purchase items for the spring semester.

“Success can be defined as helping an individual/s to reach whatever destiny or purpose in one’s life; however, it will take the community to change one person at a time to see the success,” said Student Success Center coordinator Seberina Tatum, adding, “We are so grateful to the Kiwanis Club for their support of the success of our students and the Pantry.”

In the 2022-2023 school year, the Pantry was visited by 271 students. The Pantry has served 489 students in the current academic year.

Community members who are interested in learning more about the Pantry or in making a donation are encouraged to contact Seberina Tatum or Lisa Coffey at 276-638-8777.

P&HCC President Dr. Greg Hodges and P&HCC Foundation Executive Director Tiffani Underwood accept a donation to support Patriot Pantry from Stu Warren (L) and Tim Stone (R) of Bassett Kiwanis Club.

Patriots Society

The Patriots Society honors those who have designated Patrick & Henry Community College as the recipient of a named gift. The Patriots Society now includes 31 named giving benefactors with gifts totaling $11.8 million since the inception of the program more than 28 years ago.

P&HCC Receives Donation from Alum

Patrick & Henry Community College nursing alum and Patrick County native Ron Spencer has donated a copy of his memoir, Half Penny, You Can Make It If It's All You've Got to P&HCC's library and partnered with his sister, Karen Spencer, and wife, Stephanie Stone Spencer, to make a donation to P&HCC's Patriot Pantry.

Spencer's memoir centers on four generations of his family, revealing their colorful past. This motivational and entertaining memoir, filled with vignettes, is Spencer's effort to be the "memory" for many in his family. The open and easy-to-read book is a life story which many people will relate to as some situational descriptions were likely a part of their own upbringing in the same marginalized community. The themes of self-reliance, self-determination and hard work are scattered throughout to capture, retain and inform the reader of growth tracks and steps to take to achieve their goals.

"As the son of a coal miner and a domestic worker, I am grateful for all their parenting decisions while working with limited resources. I am appreciative that we don't have to dwell on the past; however, the instructions from that time are still especially relevant today," said Spencer.

"From the 'force-multipliers', the instructors, administrators and support staff at P&HCC who intentionally guided us through to matriculation, we learned the importance of paying it forward. Other important lessons we learned were to be consistent, bring good energy, manage stress and provide encouragement for others; just as my dedicated instructors had done for us. Most importantly, we learned that education is the gift that keeps on giving so rarely did any of us ever miss a day of classes. Dr. Greg Hodges and staff are indeed accountable to make sure the door stays open so others can enter behind us to make their own 'Razz-Ma-Tazz' with the same high-quality education in a richly diverse environment," Spencer added.

P&HCC to Pilot Childcare Apprenticeship Program

Patrick & Henry Community College (P&HCC) has been awarded $31,000 from an anonymous donor to support piloting a model for Early Childhood Education apprenticeships with local childcare providers. The grant will supplement employer salaries to reach a $15/hr salary for all apprenticeships. With this generous funding, P&HCC will build a comprehensive career model that benefits students as well as youth, employees, and employers, all while Early Childhood Development students are also earning their associate's degree.

In the pilot program, 8 students will commit to a 5 month apprenticeship of 340 working hours while also completing their associate's degree in Early Childhood Development. P&HCC plans to use this model to create a federally registered apprenticeship program for Early Childhood Development students, who would all commit to working 2,000 hours over two years with local childcare providers, coinciding with the length of time needed to complete the Early Childhood Development program.

P&HCC's long-term vision is that the program will grow in future years to include more cohorts of P&HCC students participating in the apprenticeship model, with the potential to expand to other colleges. If successful, P&HCC's Early Childhood Apprenticeship Program could be replicated throughout the state to address early childhood center staff shortages. This model will provide a valuable, hands-on learning experience for students while supporting economic development through addressing the childcare needs of regional employers whose employees depend on reliable, quality childcare.

"We believe that opportunities should be available to employees to upskill and earn family-sustaining annual salaries in order to retain and sustain top-tier educational opportunities for the children in our community," said P&HCC president Dr. Greg Hodges, adding, "We are so grateful to the donors who are supporting our pilot program so that we can work to make this a reality for our region's childcare facilities."

Patrick & Henry Community College (P&HCC) offers an Early Childhood Education Certificate and the Early Childhood Development Associate of Applied Science degree. The certificate program is a 31-credit program designed to improve the quality of education provided in early childhood programs. The Early Childhood Development Associate's Degree program is designed to prepare early childhood professionals with the knowledge and skills needed to successfully manage a classroom and teach students from diverse backgrounds with varied academic and developmental needs. Graduates are prepared to work with students in a variety of educational environments including childcare centers, family day homes, Head Start, and public or private schools.

Final Cpl. Jonathan W Bowling Ride

Motorcyclists from across the country gathered in Patrick County on Saturday, April 27 for the 20th annual Cpl. Jonathan W. Bowling Memorial Bike Ride. The annual memorial motorcycle ride is both a way for fellow veterans and servicemen to remember fallen Marine Jonathan Williams Bowling and a chance for these men and women to continue his legacy of giving back to the community.

“This will be our final ride and we want to thank everyone who has supported us and helped us realize our goal of Jonathan’s scholarship becoming perpetual,” said ride organizer Darrell Bowling.

The event began at 10 a.m. at Patrick County High School (215 Cougar Lane) in Stuart, Virginia and featured live music, food, and door prizes. The ride began at noon. Registration was $15 per vehicle, and each entrant had a chance to win prizes. Trophies were given for the bike traveling the farthest to participate in the ride. All proceeds from the ride went towards the Corporal Jonathan W. Bowling Memorial Scholarship, which was established to honor his legacy and provide a Patrick County student with funding to attend Patrick & Henry Community College (P&HCC). The ride has collected a total of $89,000.00 in donations to date.

Bowling was a police officer, firefighter, elder at his church, and a corporal in the United States Marines. During deployment in Iraq in 2005, he made the ultimate sacrifice. Because Bowling was also an avid biker, the Chapter 11 Red Knights Motorcycle Club instituted an annual bike ride to honor his memory.

“P&HCC is honored to partner with the Bowling family to preserve Corporal Bowling’s memory in this way,” said Tiffani Underwood, Director of P&HCC’s Foundation, adding, “The engagement of the motorcyclists who have participated in this event over the last twenty years is a testament to Corporal Bowling’s life and memory and has ensured that Patrick County students will have the opportunity to carry his legacy into the future.”

The Corporal Jonathan W. Bowling Memorial fund has provided money for two Patrick County students to attend P&HCC each year since 2004. Students with a desire to enter into a career of public service are given priority. To learn more about the ride, the scholarship, or Bowling’s life, visit www.cpljonathanbowling.us.

Patrick Promise Receives Donation from PCHS Class of ‘71 and ‘73

In support of Patrick County Education Foundation’s (PCEF) goal, Patrick Promise will provide last dollar funds for Patrick County graduates to attend P&HCC free to the family for up to 2.5 years. Funds will currently support two of those 2.5 years. PCEF invites the community to participate so that all PCHS graduates can benefit from the same level of investments as their peers in Martinsville and Henry County.

Carter Bank and Trust Honored with 2024 Chancellor's Award for Leadership in Philanthropy

Carter Bank and Trust of Martinsville, Virginia, has received the 18th Annual Chancellor's Award for Leadership in Philanthropy. The organization was nominated for the award by Patrick & Henry Community College.

Hosted by the Virginia Foundation for Community College Education (VFCCE), more than two dozen individuals, families, and organizations have earned the 2024 Chancellor's Award for Leadership in Philanthropy. The awards were presented at a luncheon ceremony in Richmond on Tuesday, April 16, 2024. VCCS Chancellor Dr. David Doré served as emcee, and The Honorable Maurice Jones was featured as the keynote speaker.

"Virginia's growth, prosperity, and well-being depend on the success of our community college system and the success of our students," said Jones. "From childcare and housing assistance to reducing food insecurity, we must care and invest in the whole student for students and the Commonwealth to be successful."

This year's class of distinguished philanthropy leaders has collectively contributed $17 million dollars to Virginia's Community Colleges. With appreciation to event sponsors and the VFCCE, each college will receive $3,000 in honor of their philanthropy leader to support the college's student success fund.

Carter Bank & Trust has been a valued corporate partner to Patrick & Henry Community College for over 10 years. In addition to the financial and in-kind donations they have made over the years, they also take an active role in volunteering with the college. Employees from the bank serve on the P&HCC Foundation Board of Directors and on Business and Industry Leadership Councils helping to advise the college on local employer needs. In 2023, Carter reinvested a $48,000 jobs retention grant award back into the community by donating it to the Patrick & Henry Community College Foundation to support workforce development efforts furthering their longstanding commitment to Patrick & Henry Community College and to the region.

"In the world of philanthropy, there are relationships and then there are partnerships. While both are important, it is the latter that creates transformational opportunities for change and improves the quality of life of a local citizenry. For well over a decade, Carter Bank & Trust has partnered with Patrick & Henry Community College to help us fulfill our mission of economic mobility for our community. Their investments, their volunteerism, and their leadership have strengthened our college and the region that we serve in innumerable ways," said P&HCC president Dr. Greg Hodges.

Thank you to all of our donors!

On October 26, 2023 the P&HCC Foundation held the Scholarship Recognition Luncheon to celebrate our student recipients and gracious donors. Pictured above are the keynote speakers with Dr. Hodges – Jordan Haas and Rodney Mills.

P&HCC welcomes many international students each year to our community and our campus. There were 22 international students at P&HCC who were not able to return home for the Thanksgiving break in 2023, so the Patrick & Henry Community College Foundation provided a traditional Thanksgiving Meal at the Chatham House, the home of the P&HCC President, Dr. Greg Hodges and his wife, Renee.

The Lady Pats softball team are the 2024 NJCAA D3 National Champions! Congratulations!

P&HCC Receives Gene Haas Foundation Grant

Patrick & Henry Community College has been awarded $18,000 to support scholarships from the Gene Haas Foundation (GHF). Scholarships will be awarded to students who are currently enrolled or will be enrolling in a CNC Technology training or CNC machining-based engineering program and to support student participation in SkillsUSA's CNC competitions.

P&HCC offers multiple training programs that teach CNC machine technology and/or engineering. P&HCC's programs are designed to prepare graduates for immediate employment within advanced manufacturing including careers in motorsports, engineering technologies, advanced technology and industrial positions, and other manufacturing related positions. P&HCC is proud to prepare students for work in a high-demand, high wage field to meet the growing needs of employer partners.

“The Gene Haas Grant gives students an opportunity to excel in the Precision Machine Program by providing scholarships to students to assist them in completing our programs ultimately earning them Career Studies Certificates in Machining Technician (manual machining) and CNC Operator/Programmer. These skill sets are vital to support our region in the national mission to bring manufacturing back to the US from overseas. These manufacturing jobs are in high demand, pay well, and are constantly evolving to meet the needs of local and regional manufacturers. I am very thankful to the Gene Haas Foundation for supporting our students here at P&HCC,” said Precision Machining instructor Justin Durden.

GHF's primary goal is to build skills in the machining industry by providing scholarships for CNC machine technology students also to provide students with the experience of collaboration with a team by competing in a competition that highlights design, engineering and manufacturing with CNC machined parts as a primary component.

Motorsports instructor Talmage Thomas said, “Gene Haas Foundation provides financial assistance for students so that they can apply to repair cars and have gas money for transportation. The grant's support for buying basic tools needed to pursue careers in motorsports manufacturing is critical for our students.”

Thank you to Longwood University at New College Institute students and staff for sponsoring our Patriot Pantry for November. Pictured is Tiffani Underwood, Pam Randall, Stephanie Watts, Scott Harmon, Rachel Hodge, and Seberina Tatum.

Thank you to our talented student artists who made our 27th Annual Student Art Show a vibrant celebration of creativity! Congratulations!

P&HCC's Great Expectations Receives $2,000 Donation

Student Success Center Coordinator Seberina Tatum and Great Expectations coach Briana Koger receive the VFCCE/Anthem donation from P&HCC Associate Vice President of Institutional Advancement and P&HCC Foundation Executive Director Tiffani Underwood.

Patrick & Henry Community College's Great Expectations program is the recipient of $2,000.00 in emergency funds from Virginia Foundation for Community College Education in partnership with Anthem Healthkeepers. The funding will equitably assist Great Expectations students, providing direct student funding in emergency situations including but not limited to food and housing insecurities, transportation issues, academic supply needs, and childcare expenses.

"Many of our students rely on scholarships and other assistance to stay in school. We are so grateful to the Virginia Foundation for Community College Education (VFCCE) for their continued support and assistance in securing these important funds from Anthem HealthKeepers. Their commitment to student success ensures our students will have access to a quality education and the support they need to complete their degree," said P&HCC Associate Vice President of Institutional Advancement and P&HCC Foundation Executive Director Tiffani Underwood.

Great Expectations is a program that empowers Virginia's foster youth through active support and access to higher education. The program's mission is to mitigate barriers for students who have experienced foster care as they complete a course of study. Great Expectations students are paired with an adult coach to work together to assess student skills and interests and plan for the student's future.

"We greatly appreciate Anthem contributing to the cause of the Great Expectations program, which is to help these students achieve program completion," said Great Expectations coach Briana Koger.
